Add your primary topic in the middle, followed by the major topics around the primary topic. Finish with branches building off of the topics by adding subtopics.